

Dear Magic Goalie Parents,

Magic Soccer is proud to offer our Classic level goalies a variety of opportunities to train under the guidance of Matt Lombardino and a Magic coach skilled in the area of keeper development. Matt is the owner of Break Away Sports Center and a lifelong resident of Madison with a B.S. degree from the University of WI-Madison in Exercise Physiology. Matt is the former Captain of the Madison Memorial High School varsity soccer and hockey teams, a former UW Men's soccer player and a former player and goalie for the Madison 56er's. Matt has had over 25 years experience coaching youth, high school, and college level players and is a former Coach and Director of local and state soccer camps.

Individual Lessons

Keepers have very specific training needs that cannot always be met during the usual team practices. Magic encourages their competitive level goalies to take advantage of an opportunity to train with Matt Lombardino and pay half the usual cost of a session. Parents can call Matt at Break Away to schedule a training time convenient for them at 288-9600. Simply submit the receipt from your training to Magic Soccer and we will reimburse you half of the cost to help provide this high level training to our keepers.

Group Lessons

Part of the keeper's job is learning how to interact effectively with his or her team. In conjunction with individual lessons, goalies should consider a combined or small group lesson with other competitive level keepers. This helps the keeper use the skills learned in the individual lesson but now in a more realistic game type format. Please Contact Matt at BreakAway to schedule or learn more about this type of training.
